Griebenow to Head Chamber Commerce During Coming Year

Organization To Start 1928 With Splendid Prospects---Many New Members on the Rolls

Entertainment Planned to Raise Funds to Place Chamber of Commerce in Better Financial Condition

Fred Griebenow was elected president of the Sierra Madre chamber of commerce at the first meeting of the new board of directors Monday night. The other officers chosen to serve during 1928 are: Woodson F. Jones, first vice president; Walter C. Poehler, second vice president; W. R. Humphries, treasurer; Gordon Brooks, secretary.

The board meeting was attended by all members except H. J. Alley, one of the hold-over members, who has removed from the city. W. R. Humphries, retiring president, who did not choose to allow his name to go on the ballot at the recent election of directors, presided at the opening of the meeting. On motion of Director Tyler, Mr. Humphries was chosen to fill the vacancy left by the removal of Mr. Alley. W. D. Richards also resigned on the ground that he would be unable to attend many of the meetings after the first of the year, and Fred Griebenow was named in his stead.

With the changes noted the directorate now includes Ray A. Grant, Tom Tyler, Dr. G. S. Board, R. C. Copenhaver, W. E. Pratt, Walter C. Poehler, R. G. McLellan, Woodson F. Jones, W. R. Humphries and Fred Griebenow. Most of the lengthy session was devoted to discussion as to how to put the organization on its feet financially.

Secretary Brooks reported outstanding obligations amounting to more than $500, with a negligible amount of cash on hand. About $100 in annual membership dues should come in this month, and in January the bulk of the annual income would be collectable. This would provide considerably more than enough to meet all indebtedness. He said there are about 170 members on the roll, 22 having been added since he took office in the summer. Several other persons have indicated their intention to join the chamber the first of the new year.

The directors were adverse to using the normal income of the new year and of new memberships to meet old obligations. Several suggestions were made as to money-raising activities. After considering them all, the proposal of R. G. McLellan was adopted to the effect that a concert be arranged early in January by the entertainment committee of which Joe R. Eastwood is chairman. Vice President Jones, who was presiding, named Directors McLellan and Humphries to cooperate with the committee in making the necessary plans.

Before surrendering the chair as president, Mr. Humphries made some suggestions as to activities and organization work. The benefits of chamber of commerce activities are popularly supposed to accrue chiefly to the business firms of the community. However, he said there are more than 300 tenant houses in Sierra Madre, not including bungalow courts. With an average rental of $35 this would mean an annual income of approximately $10,000 if all were filled. Thus, house-renting is seen to be one of the chief industries of Sierra Madre. When this business is good there is considerably more money to be distributed among a large number of people than when a large number of houses are empty.

The chamber of commerce is the chief agency concerned in advertising the community to the outside world in order to bring new residents here. Every owner of a tenant house ought to be a

Bethany Pastor Is Honor Guest At Men's Dinner

Dr. William Duncan Ogg, pastor of the Bethany church, has been welcomed to Sierra Madre by many groups since his arrival two weeks ago, but no more enthusiastically than he will be greeted this evening when he is the guest of honor at a dinner arranged by the men of his congregation.

The Rev. Ogg will be welcomed by the men only at the dinner this evening, but although only men will sit down at the table, and only men waiters will serve the meal, the women of the church will have a hand in the affair, and will work in the kitchen to prepare the food.

J. O. Smith is chairman of the evening, and will call upon various members for speeches and selections of music. The Rev. Ogg has purchased a home in Sierra Madre and is moving his family here.

Tennant Case Is Dismissed Before Trial

Case against Myrtle A. Tennant, held on charge of battery, was dismissed yesterday in the local recorder's court, presided over by Dean W. Carson Shaw. The defendants' counsel moved to dismiss the action of battery and Dean Shaw, acting on the advice and suggestion of the district attorney, granted the motion.

Mr. and Mrs. Tennant were placed under arrest during November, when Mrs. Tennant hurled a milk bottle at a woman process server, who attempted to place civil papers in Mr. Tennant's pockets. Later in the evening Gordon McMillen, armed with a warrant for the arrest of the pair, was stopped, after he had forced the door, by a gun in the hands of Mrs. Tennant. The fact that the gun jammed is claimed by Mr. McMillen to have saved his life.

He retired, later to return with other city officers, and was only able to enter the house when joined by deputies from the sheriff's office.

A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was placed against Mrs. Tennant, and the case was heard before Justice Gibbs of Pasadena. After hearing the evidence, the Judge discharged the case, stating that he was convinced Mrs. Tennant had believed officer McMillen to be a burglar.

regular supporter of the chamber of commerce as a means of protection against vacancies.

Secretary Brooks read a letter from the Eureka chamber of commerce, commending the civic activities of Rev. William Dana Ogg while a resident of that community and a member of their organization. In accordance with custom, the directors voted to extend the honorary membership privilege to the new pastor of Bethany Temple.

A letter from Chief of Police E. H. Keegan also expressed appreciation for the active cooperation of the chamber of commerce in connection with the recent entertainment given at the club house by the Los Angeles police officers and Detective Nick Harris.

EMPTY JUGS HELD AS EVIDENCE IN LIQUOR CASE; ARREST MADE

Although the jugs were empty, they are being held in the city hall under what might be termed an "accessory to the crime" charge, and will be used along with the evidence, a small quantity of liquor, when W. E. McCreary appears before Dean William Carson Shaw for hearing this afternoon at 2:30.

McCreary, who resides on Sycamore Place was arrested early Monday morning by Officer Gordon McMillen and a federal officer, who discovered the small amount of what they claim to be whiskey, and several large and empty 5-gallon bottles.

The charge is possession of liquor, and arraignment was before Dean Shaw, acting as Police recorder, at 10:30 Monday morning. Even though the bottles are as bare as old Mother Hubbard's famous cupboard, they may get their owner into trouble provided the percentage of the liquor on hand is established to the satisfaction of the court.

Deaths Lead Births by 3; Report Here

Conditions in Sierra Madre Improving Under Eye of Nurse

The Grim Reaper won his bout with the stark last month in Sierra Madre, according to statistics just furnished by J. M. Furstman, district medical director. There were five deaths in the community, with only two births. Of the five, one was under one year of age, one between 20 and 30 and the others over fifty years of age.

During the month there were also seven news cases at the baby clinic, with 13 children examined at the one November meeting. Of those looked over by Dr. Furstman, six were under one year of age and the remainder from one to six years.

Every precaution is being taken in the community to keep the children healthy, and Mrs. Barker, school nurse is constantly on duty, both at school and in the home to establish customs which will lead to perfect health conditions.

During November Mrs. Barker made 20 visits to the school; 22 visits to the homes for child welfare; 22 for medical and surgical treatment and 37 for tuberculosis. There were 11 miscellaneous visits; 8 to the county city health office. There were 88 1st aid treatments; 66 dressings; 9 cases referred to the clinic or hospital; 6 to private doctors; 11 to dentists and 7 to others sources. Seven visits were made to hospital or clinic. During the month 15 pupils were excluded from school, to safe guard the health of the others.

While both cases of diphtheria, discovered in the community during October, have been discharged, 355 immunizations against the disease were given in the public schools.

Clothing Wanted by Workers for Christmas Boxes

Clothing, toys and other articles usually included in Christmas boxes to the needy are being collected by Mrs. E. C. Polsue, 272 West Grand View, for distribution in the outlying districts of the county. Mrs. Polsue is working with a friend who is connected with the county charity work, and states that conditions in many sections are pitiful.

Christmas spirit and cheer in many families depends upon the charity of those in more fortunate circumstances, and through Mrs. Polsue, people of Sierra Madre who have used garments and toys in good condition will have an opportunity of helping in the work. Those desiring to donate clothing or toys are asked to notify Mrs. Polsue at Green 254.

Twelve-Hour Rain Breaks Long Draught

Sierra Madre Gets 1.66 Inches During Friday-Saturday Precipitation

Col. Hersey Installs Instruments at Fennel Home in Timely Fashion

The long drought, which lasted more than a month, was broken Friday evening shortly after 9 o'clock when the rain commenced, and as has been the case with previous storms this year, continued throughout the night with a gentle fall. The skies partially cleared for a short time Saturday morning, but about noon the rain commenced with renewed violence, and a heavy precipitation lasted the greater part of the afternoon.

Intermittent showers during the evening, with a steady drop from 10 o'clock until the early hours of the morning netted a total of 1.66 for the storm, according to the gauge at the city water pumping plant, and 4.64 according to the new government gauge at the Fennel home, 201 W. Carter.

The storm was most welcome after the dry hot winds which stirred up much dust and made the atmosphere generally disagreeable. Not only was the rain of great benefit to orange growers and other ranchers in the vicinity, who had been threatened with the necessity for irrigation, but also to the small gardeners, who were spending most of their spare time of early evenings watering plants and trees.

According to the city records, the seasonal total is 5.11 with 3.45 for the previous storms. This compares with 8.34 for this time last year.

Health Dept. Tests Eggs In This District

The Los Angeles County Health Department is enforcing the California Egg law and the work in this district is under the supervision of Dr. J. M. Furstman, local district health officer. The stores and ranches have been inspected and advised as to the requirements of the law and only a few minor violations have been found.

Inspection is for wholesomeness of product and correct labeling as to quality and size. This is done so that the consumer may know just what he is buying. According to Dr. Furstman, he should ask for grade and size and not be fooled by the price, for there is nearly twice as much meat in the large as there is in the small egg. Large eggs need not be labeled as to the size but smaller sizes must be labeled just what they are, "medium or pullets" or "small or pewees."

People do not ask how long the beef was killed, when buying meat; not how long butter or cheese was made, as long as the product is wholesome; and the same is true of eggs. A good egg kept in a dark cool place for 2 months is superior in quality to a fresh egg which has been left in the sun or some hot place for 24 hours. Formerly people did not know as much about cold storage as they do now, and at the present time only the best quality of eggs are put in cold storage.

The term "fresh eggs" or its equivalent is applicable only to eggs which meet the present specifications of U. S. Standards, except that yolks may be visible and excluding all processed, cold stored, artificially cleaned and incubator eggs.

The term "eggs" "ranch eggs" etc. is applicable to eggs which meet the specifications of U. S. Extras and may be fresh or processed, cold stored or artificially cleaned.

Eggs which meet the specifications of U. S. Standards must be marked in a manner to indicate the fact that they are of lower quality with such words as "held," "stored," "eastern," etc.

$15,000.00 RESIDENCE FOR "WEATHER MAN" STARTED THIS WEEK

Building in the community is being boosted this month by the erection of the new Congregational church and by the $15,000 residence which was started on Scenic Point yesterday for Col. H. B. Hersey, chief of the weather bureau in Los Angeles.

Col. Hersey's residence will be one of the show places of the section when completed, commanding a view of the entire valley from its vantage point on the crest of the hill. H. B. Anderson has drawn the plans of the California-style home, a two story frame and stucco house.

Construction has already been started on the residence, the building permit having been issued Friday. The contractors are Lavison and Perron of Monrovia.

Mother and Children are Gas Victims

Neighbors Come to Rescue Before Annas Family Is Overcome

While Robert Annas Jr. was pushing his way through the hordes of Christmas shoppers Saturday evening in Los Angeles, his wife and children were staring death in the face at their home on Santa Anita Court. "Gas poisoning" was the verdict of Dr. Gilbert Bovard who was called by frantic neighbors, after Mrs. Annas and the three little girls were discovered in the gas filled room.

All during the day the family had remained indoors while the storm continued without, and all during the day the gas heater furnished warmth for them. Shortly after six o'clock they gathered in the front room to await the return of "daddy" from the city. It was only with the greatest effort that Mrs. Annas threw off the creeping effects of the gas and managed to reach the door, where she screamed for help.

She and the children, all of whom were under five years of age, were desperately ill for some time after the doctor arrived and administered restoratives, but are today showing no ill effects from their experience.

As a result a warning is being sounded by the city health officials to all users of gas for heating. In the instance of the Annas family, the cord connecting the gas plug with the heater was leaking in 15 places, and unburned gas was escaping into the room at a rapid rate. No fumes of gas could be detected upon entering the room, however, it was reported by those who arrived shortly after Mrs. Annas shouted for help.

The cord was of the spiral metal type, the many metal rings overlapping to form the hose. This type is always dangerous, according to officials, who recommend the fiber hose. Many cities have condemned the metal hose entirely. All hose should be tested before using, is the warning.

Delivery Truck Is Stolen from Store

The small delivery truck belonging to Hartman and Son is again in Sierra Madre, none the worse for a short French leave trip to Pasadena Sunday night. The truck was stolen from in front of the drug store between 4 and 6 p. m. Sunday, and police notified to be on the lookout for it.

Monday afternoon Mr. Hartman received a call from a resident of East Walnut Street in Pasadena, informing him that a truck, bearing the name Hartman on the license plate had been standing in front of his house during the night. Nothing had been taken from the vehicle, and with the exception of a small amount of gasoline which had been consumed, the truck was as it had been left Sunday afternoon.

It had been parked a few doors north of the drug store on Baldwin Avenue, and was taken while Mr. Hartman was in the store.

Those Who Do Their Shopping In This City Have Big Advantage

Sierra Madre Merchants Have Splendid Assortments for Shoppers---Stores Open Evenings

Discomforts and Tribulations Incident to Shopping in Big City Stores Unnecessary

Santa Claus To Visit Children of Sierra Madre

Santa Claus will come this year, as he has every year previously, for the kiddies of Sierra Madre, according to reports from the Volunteer Firemen, who have received a radiogram from him. Expenses of his visit must be paid however. The jovial old Saint will always arrive where he is wanted, but he generally gets his travelling expenses paid, and contrary to the belief that journey by reindeer is cheap, it costs him several hundred dollars to make the trip from Mars, or the north pole, or where ever his shop is located.

The firemen's annual ball last Friday helped to raise the money for the Christmas tree and Santa's visit, but did not fully cover expenses. Two hundred dollars have been turned in already from the ticket sale, and more is expected, but at least $500 is needed for baskets, candy, and tree decorations.

Baskets filled with Christmas dinner for the poor will be distributed among the poor, under the supervision of Mrs. Barker, city nurse, and donations are now in order and will be received at the city hall.

Burglars Get $12,500 Cash And Jewelry

L. C. Tucker and Harmon Clark of Sierra Madre suffered a serious burglary loss Sunday night when their jewelry stock in the Jordan department store of Pasadena was raided. The burglars got away with $7500 worth of watches and jewelry, as well as more than $500 in cash from the department store safe.

Three men were said to have been implicated in the robbery, according to the watchman, Joseph McFeeters, who was overpowered and bound by them. They broke into the building about 10 o'clock when he was sweeping and cleaning the store. Covering him with a gun, they tied him securely and stowed him away in a closet.

A little more than an hour later the men were leaving the department store with their booty when they encountered F. M. Winchester, special detective officer. Covering him with a gun, they tied him up and took him into the store where they left him with McFeeters. They are supposed to have made their escape in a roadster which they had parked at the rear of the store, taking the two boxes of plunder which they were carrying when he met them. There was every indication that the robbery was committed by men thoroughly familiar with the arrangement of the store, and with the disposal of the daily cash receipts.

The loss of Tucker and Clark consisted chiefly of about 200 watches and several dozen rings, and was not covered by insurance. Their stock of diamonds were kept in a vault to which the robbers did not gain access.

turned to his home in Sierra Madre from the Glendale hospital, where he has been receiving treatment for an infected eye. Dr. Herbert took cold in his eye on Thanksgiving day, and since that time the eye has been inflamed.

Only ten shopping days are left before Christmas. People who made their annual resolution not to put it off till the last minute will now have their innings at making up for the resolution they did not keep. But what of it? Christmas shopping too long before Christmas has not much of the holiday savor which makes it thrilling.

Sierra Madre merchants have provided a great array of holiday goods this year. And careful shoppers report many instances of money saved on standard goods as compared with big city stores. This is no fiction, either, for some of these have been confirmed by actual investigation by representatives of this paper.

Christmas shopping which had been lagging during the warm weather of November took a sudden spurt with the rain and cold of the past week. One important store reported Saturday as the biggest day of the year.

Open evenings till Christmas is the slogan of a number of the stores which have holiday stocks. This should prove an incentive to many commuters to do their Christmas shopping in Sierra Madre. For they, better than anyone else, know the terrific battle involved in fighting through the jams in the streets and stores of the big cities.

Hermit Loses Cabin Roof In Morning Fire

Frank Volvin, the "Hermit" of the Big Santa Anita, was driven from his home by fire Monday morning. The wooden roof and contents of his stone cabin are said to have been completely destroyed. The cabin was located deep in the gorge about half a mile above the Big Santa Anita dam. The lake created by the filling of the dam with water would have reached close to his cabin.

For something like 25 years Volvin has been a recluse in the Big Santa Anita. He has been a favorite subject for the imaginations of daily newspaper feature writers. The mystery was enhanced by the fact that he was unable to speak English when he first took up his abode in the canyon. Even in later years he has not been overly communicative.

Volvin has eked out an existence by raising crops on little areas cleared on the canyon slopes, and by labor on the trails and about the camps. To residents and canyon campers there has been no particular mystery or romance involved except for the fact that Volvin's cabin is located in one of the most beautiful portions of the canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lehner of San Francisco were the guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Lehner here last week. The guests have been touring the east for the past three months. Over the weekend the party motored to San Diego so that the San Franciscans could see points of interest in the southern part of the state.

R. R. Moreland is offering his friends a combination phone number pad and calendar, which may be clamped onto the telephone. The device rolls into compact size. He also has some beautiful calendars and announces that those wishing either or both may receive them by calling at his office on West Central.

NOW IS THE ACCEPTED TIME

Another year has almost gone into the discard, a year in which Mr. Local Business Man has been asked to "go to bat" early and often for the good of the community—and he it said to his everlasting credit, he never yet has turned down a worthy cause.

Every year the local business man is asked to head subscription lists for various good causes—the annual Red Cross Roll Call, the Summer Health School, the Tuberculosis Association, and almost countless others. He is asked to support the various home talent plays which go to make life worth living in the smaller communities, and to support the annual Christmas Trees—and he has responded to each and every call with a hearty willingness to co-operate in making each different affair an outstanding success.

To be sure Mr. Local Business Man's efforts should be appreciated all through the year, and usually are—but right now is the one big time when every person who has solicited a subscription from a local merchant should remember the courtesies he has received and give the home merchant a fair chance at the Christmas shopping. This is the one big month in the year, and the one month for which the merchant prepares long in advance. He tries to forecast the wants and needs of his neighbors and friends and usually does. But sometimes some of his neighbors and friends are lured to the great marts of trade by the great advertisements which appear daily in the giant newspapers. Usually he buys just the things he could buy at home and not only does he pay just as much for the merchandise but he pays a heavy penalty in discomfort as well as actual expense of travel.

No Sierra Madre merchant has ever, to our knowledge, made an unreasonable request of our local people—he only urges his fellow-citizens to try home-town merchants first.

Try the home merchant first!

GIVE PEDDLERS THE GATE

(Monterey Park Progress)
We've no objection to our neighbors in other parts of the state, or even in other states, selling goods. But we enjoy buying what we do buy from other people we know, or from salesmen who represent people and concerns that are not strangers to us. We can't see just wherein there can be much satisfaction in buying from those we never heard of before and will never meet up with again.

This is inspired by the fact that more and more, as roads get better and it is possible for more autos to travel them, the community is being visited by canvassers and peddlers who offer most everything under the sun. We are opposed to this kind of merchandising for many reasons, chief among which is the fact that we have here established houses that we can turn to when we need anything. And if they haven't it in stock they can very easily and without loss of time get it for us.

Where does anyone profit through buying from a peddler something that, when replacement is needed, cannot be secured here at home. And whose tax money pays for the roads over which these travelers and canvassers travel? They can only exist so long as doors are open to them and they are permitted to pour forth their sale arguments. 'Give the peddler the gate' would be a good slogan for every community to adopt.

HEAVY EDITING

(Homer King in Hemet News)
An exasperated reader of this column demands that we devote more space to serious subjects. Well, here goes:

Weather: It looks like either a wet winter or one not so wet. Congress will vote on it in the next day or so. The odds are 10 to 1 that it will be all wet.

Religion: We note considerable controversy between the modernists and the fundamentalists. We do not take sides. Discussion produces much heat but little light.

The Next War: Somebody will get hurt just as sure as we have it.

Politics: We stand where we have always stood—outside looking in. But there is a better day coming. It may not be in this world, but the democrats will surely have a safe majority in the next.

Companionate Marriage: (Lunch time.)
Santa Claus: We still believe in him.

Radio: We favor a policy of non-interference.

Prohibition: A dry subject at best.

FIRE FLAMES

If there were any disappointments in no "Fire*Flames" appearing in last Friday's issue of the News, the cause may be laid to the strenuous efforts applied to picture and rhyme of last Tuesday's Press. Our friends of the News and Press who are so kind as to permit "Fire*Flames" to be published must have the "dope" on time and as Friday morning was too late, therefore and so be it, or, as Joe Eastwood might say, "ab uno disce omnes" (whatever that means).

Last week was a busy week for the Fireboys and if I'm not mistaken, a very successful week. Our meeting and practice on last Thursday proved to be up to the standard and as indicated was well attended. There were more people than the writer that looked forward to a bite of limburger cheese.

The early part of the evening was occupied for selling more of the dance tickets and a fairly successful sale was reported. The entire quota was not sold, but it looks as though enough money has been raised to assure a respectable treat. Regular practice.

Regular practice, and then to the "old city hall" for our semi-monthly "confab."

A great part of the evening, or night, was taken up by preparing for the "Big Dance." The decoration committee must be commended for their ability and judgment in making the club house look appropriate to Christmas.

The stage was magnificently decorated with poinsettias, sweet peas and saxophones, with Carol House at the piano. (Carol had an idea that the orchestra might take it with them.) At any rate, the stage looked well after the flowers were put in the background and replaced by banjos and saxophones and the like. Evidently that orchestra couldn't stand the smell of poinsettias, but say, they could play dance music—and after all, that's what we wanted of 'em. No fooling, the place did look "keen."

The refreshment committee must be reprimanded for their inability to make a punch that had a "punch." 'Twas alright, fellows; 'twas a ladies' drink.

Coming back to the meeting (prior to the dance) I think every member had something to say and it was late when we adjourned. (Thanks to Keegan for the final adjournment motion.) I don't know whether Keegan got hungry or tired talking, but he certainly knows when to "move to adjourn." The "second the motion" and "carried" followed very closely; so we must all thank Keegan.

Now comes the important part of the meeting—"eats." Louie Karger starts unpacking three cardboard boxes of exorbitant size, which contain sandwiches made of liverwurst and dill pickle, some ham, some lettuce, and, last but far from least, some made with limburger cheese as a filler. Sweet essence of roses!

Still digging into the innards of the boxes he brings forth a wonderful cake (baked by Mrs. Geo. Smith) and pies "ad eundem."

Contrary to expectations, there were no objections to the obnoxious aroma of the Limburger sandwiches, but rather a rush for permanent possession. The rush "for" them was so strong that it was impossible for a fellow to pocket one to take home to his wife. (The reason for this is known only to married men who have been forced to sleep in the garage after attending a limburger and onion "feed.")

H. A. Thew must have had an idea that this well known cheese was a hair restorer; I saw him eat three. His third one was the last in the lot and prevented Lovell from being credited with his fifth one.

The rest of the "eats" must not be omitted and certainly bear honorable mention. The home-made cake was a treat and melted away into fire-fighting energy in very short order. Ditto for the pineapple pie. Despite the somniferous effect of the cheese and onion odor, Keegan's coffee had its effect and some of us experienced a night of insomnia. "Mac," our "bright young man" of the department, took home the dishes and we may have some more home-made pies, providing he doesn't get too close to someone's gun.

All those who failed to enjoy the dance, step out and I'll knock their blocks off.

Frank Hildebrandt was sorry when 12 o'clock came; there were many more dances in his shoes. I mention him because he danced them all. The rest of the troupe did their best, but—but—etc.

By all appearances, the dance

Big Shippers New Member Of Exchange

Many Hundreds of Cars of Oranges Will be Added This Season

The second largest shipper to affiliate with the California Fruit Growers Exchange since the beginning of the new season, November 1st, is Bradford Bros., Inc., Placentia, who are now members of the Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange, according to an announcement from Exchange Headquarters, Los Angeles.

The Riverside Orchards company with about 400 acres of oranges in the Riverside district, and like the Bradford unit an important and welcome addition to the growing list of Exchange shippers, joined the Exchange a month ago. This shipper became affiliated with the Arlington Heights Fruit Association, one of the members of the Riverside Arlington

Bradford Bros. last year packed about twenty cars of navel and 160 cars of Valencia under the Tesoro brand. Tesoro Blue will now be Sunkist and Tesoro Red will be Red Ball. The new Riverside acreage added another 200 car of oranges, mostly navels, to Exchange shipments from that district.

A number of well-known and established shipping units have joined the Exchange during the past year. The L. V. W. Brown Estate of Riverside, and the Imperial Valley Grapefruit Growers Association became members of the Riverside district exchange.

The Highland Citrus Association with over 1,000 acres of Navels joined the Redlands district exchange last spring.

Among newly organized organizations, the Imperial Valley Citrus Exchange, Canoga Citrus Association, in the San Fernando Valley, Irvine Valencia Growers in southern Orange County, Cooperative Citrus Association of Exeter, Tulare County, and the French-American Corporation at Lindsay have been added to the Exchange family.

Hugh F. Stewart, president of the Riverside Orchards, is reported to have stated that he investigated thoroughly all marketing methods and organizations, including past performance in the way of returns, before deciding that the interests of his company would be best served by the Exchange.

In commenting on recent shippers to come under the Sunkist banner, General Manager Dezell said, "We feel that the best proof of the work the Exchange has been doing in distributing and advertising the large citrus crops of the past few seasons, lies in the recognition given us by an increasing number of the larger independent producers who have been in the business for a number of years."

Entertains Guest from San Francisco—

Miss Ruth N. Callahan of San Francisco was a house guest of Dr. Edythe M. Dutcher during the past week. Friday evening Mrs. Dutcher presided over a dinner and theater party in her honor. Miss Callahan is advertising manager for the San Francisco Woman's City Club, which has a membership of over 7000, and now owns its own clubhouse, located on Post Street.

Young Folks Enjoy Skating—

Young folks from the Congregational church, joined by a group from the Episcopal Church, enjoyed a skating party at the Alhambra rink Saturday night, and aside from the enormous amount of fun, cleared $14, it was announced today by the president of the Comrades Club, Preston Schwartz. The Comrades Club sponsored the event, which was one of the outstanding successes of the year. The entire rink was given over to the young folks.

Woman's Guild to Meet Friday—

Dresses for children in the General Hospital in Los Angeles will be made Friday when the women of the Guild of the Church of the Ascension will meet in the parish house. The meeting will be called to order by Miss Lydia Webster, president, and will be purely a work session. A full attendance is desired so that as many dresses as possible may be finished.

Girl Reserves to Attend Dinner—

The annual dinner of the Girls Reserve, senior department, will be held in Pasadena Friday evening, December 16, at the Y.W.C.A. building, and a full attendance from Sierra Madre is urged. The local girls, who have no leader of their own, have been supervised by workers from Pasadena, with the understanding that they attend the Pasadena dinners. All those who expect to attend the affair Friday are asked to telephone Blue 202 for reservations.

St. Catherine's Card Party Wednesday—

The members of St. Catherine's are planning one of the nicest social affairs of the holiday season for Wednesday night, when a benefit card party will be sponsored in the parish house. Mrs. Victor Hill, in charge of the decorations, reports that she will use the Christmas motif, and will decorate with greens, crimson flowers and berries. The tallies will also carry out the Christmas motif. Prizes will be served, and at the close of the playing, refreshments will be served.

Entertain for New Pastor—

Several intimate friends have been invited to a dinner party in Los Angeles Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rimmer, the affair being planned in honor of the new pastor of Bethany Church, the Rev. William Duncan Ogg. Mr. Rimmer supplied the pulpit recently at the local church.

Dinner to Honor Engaged Couple—

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moote will preside over a perfectly appointed dinner party at their home this evening when they will entertain for Miss Elizabeth Peck and Dr. E. C. Bellows of Los Angeles, who will be married soon after New Year's Day. Miss Peck is a teacher at Marlborough School for Girls in Los Angeles, and is a very talented musician. During the evening she will play for the gathering of friends.

The groom-elect is a prominent physician of Los Angeles. Mrs. Moote will carry out the holiday motif in all of her table appointments, using the popular red and green color scheme in her centerpiece and candles. Places will be marked for the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cuthbert of Alhambra, Mrs. Mary Larrimer and W. L. Stanton.

Club Women Will Visit Veterans—

To take not only entertainment but material for a party as well, is the aim of the club women when they visit the hospital for disabled veterans at Sawtelle on the 22nd. Mrs. Laura Cline, in charge of the committee for co-operation with California veterans, with her co-workers, has arranged the date, Thursday afternoon, December 22, for the visit.

It is her plan to present a program at the close of which refreshments will be served. Candy, cookies, oranges and other fruit, as well as punch will be served, and donations of any of the articles mentioned will be accepted by the committee. Providing some money can be raised for the project, cigarettes will also be taken to the men, who seem to appreciate them more than any other gift.

The local club has sponsored or adopted Ward 9, the surgical ward, and at the time of the last visit, in November, there were 41 men in the ward. Preparations are being made to feed 100 men on the afternoon of the "party," as the number of patients fluctuates, and there are also men from other wards who are expected to be present.

Dr. William Duncan Ogg, new pastor of Bethany Church, has purchased the residence formerly owned by R. A. Pratt on North Mountain Trail, and will move his family there immediately. The deal was made thru T. W. Neale.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Whelan of Seattle, Wash., have recently arrived in Sierra Madre, and yesterday rented the Devine cottage on East Grand View.

Mrs. Frank Hart and Karl Hart were guests at the anniversary dinner given for Judge and Mrs. Gibbs of Pasadena in the Huntington Hotel Thursday evening.

Miss Dorothy Gray of San Dimas will spend Wednesday evening with Bessy Glenn.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Mrs. Frank Hart attended the recent luncheon at the Mary Louise tearoom in Los Angeles, arranged in honor of Mrs. Charles H. Toll, who has just returned from her wedding trip.

Dr. May Laidlaw returned Sunday evening from Long Beach, where she spent the week end with Mr. Laidlaw's sister, Miss Jennie Laidlaw. Miss Laidlaw has been ill all week, and Tuesday sent for Mrs. Laidlaw. She is greatly improved, according to Dr. Laidlaw, who gave her treatment.

Miss Helen Cleveland of Toronto, Canada, and Harold Jackson of Colorado are house guests at Hartwood, the lovely home of Mrs. Frank Hart.

E. H. Keegan and H. A. Rodgers were among those who attended the initiation and meeting of the Scouts in Pasadena Friday evening.

Christmas Program at Woman's Club—

The Christmas luncheon and program for the Woman's club gives promise of being one of the nicest events of the year, and reservations would indicate that it will be largely attended. Mrs. Udiell, who is in charge of the luncheon, reports that the Yuletide motif will be carried out in the table appointments, and especially elaborate decorations are being put up.

Mrs. E. D. Burbank is the luncheon speaker and her topic, "Holidays in the Indian Ocean," sounds most interesting. The talk will be based upon experiences of Mrs. Burbank and her husband while traveling in the Far East last year. The Christmas customs of the countries visited will be set forth by the speaker in her own original manner.

Still a part of the luncheon program, but given in the auditorium, will be the one-act play to be read by Mrs. W. E. Pratt. Following the reading there will be adjournment, during which time it is the hope of the president to establish a "Christmas" spirit among the members, who will be allowed to visit until 2:30, when the afternoon program starts.

The club song, composed and set to music by Mrs. C. H. Baker of Pasadena, and dedicated to the local club, will be sung in unison, as a tribute to the donor. A copy of the very beautiful song has been mailed to each member of the club, and each woman is asked to have her copy with her Wednesday.

Christmas carols will be sung by Mrs. James Hawks and Mrs. Randolph Wood, who are preparing their own numbers, and have not yet announced them. The chief speaker of the afternoon is Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, of the department of religious education of Occidental College, and Dr. Ballard will give his impressions on "Behaviorism," the topic of the address being "Behaviorism Examined."

Birthday Party for Small Daughter—

Shirley Chamberlain was honor guest and hostess Saturday afternoon when she presided over a birthday party arranged by her mother, Mrs. F. B. Chamberlain, in celebration of the young miss's 10th birthday. Sixteen small guests were bidden to the affair and helped Shirley observe the great occasion. Games were played during the afternoon, and prizes awarded to Warren Preston, Jane Anderson, Sadie Sellers, Cynthia Hull and Howard Lieben.

Late in the afternoon the children were called into the dining room, where they were seated at a beautifully appointed luncheon table. A small Christmas tree, decked with tinsel and the usual ornaments centered the table, while miniature Santa Clauses were placed on guard at various stations. Bright candies in glazed paper and Christmas place cards were found at each plate, while two large birthday cakes, frosted in red and white, bore ten lighted candles each.

The guests were: Jane Anderson, Cynthia Hull, Joe and John Morgan, Sadie Sellers, Bob and Howard Lieben, Joan Gruit, Genelle Paschall, Janet and Barbara Kedzie, Eileen and Better Lasiter, sister, Bobby Barbour and Warren Preston.

Dinner Party for Visiting Guest—

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ferris, 555 West Central, was the scene of a prettily appointed dinner Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless and their house guest, Mrs. J. T. Mason, were entertained.

Mrs. J. T. Mason, who has recently returned from a trip in the east, is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless. Mrs. Mason is now staying with her daughter, Mrs. George Lettau of Los Angeles. Mrs. Lettau is a former resident of Sierra Madre.

Stage Classic To Be Shown In Pasadena

"Old Homestead" Is Holiday Offering of Community Players

Because people are simpler kinder, more touched by tenderness before Christmas than they are at any other time of the year, "The Old Homestead" will be put on at the Pasadena Community Playhouse from December 13 through December 24, omitting the 18th and 19, by the ablest directors and players of the organization. The revival will be historically true as art can contrive.

For thirty-odd years Denman Thompson's old play made people laugh and made them cry. It was the "Abie's Irish Rose" of our grandfathers' day, in profit and popularity. It made Thompson famous and it made him rich.

Some one has observed that plays are not written, but rewritten. "The Old Homestead" was twelve years in evolving to its final form. Critique regard it as "folk drama." As Ralph Freud, the associate director chosen by Gilmore Brown to work with him on "The Old Homestead," has put it, "Such comedies were the very foundation of our native drama, the first attempt to break away from the continental fashions."

People of this generation, who have imagined that "visions" came in with moving pictures, will find the climax of the first act a surprise.

But the play is not only historically and technically interesting, it also is worth seeing for its comedy, its characterization, its "heart interest."

A father's anxiety and tenderness for his "wandering boy" is as moving and deep and universal as the other aspects of love more often chosen as the motive of drama in the theatre.

Mrs. A. H. Palmer and George C. Reis play the principal roles.

Novelties To Be Features Of Orchestra

Philharmonic 'Pop' Concert Will Offer Reminders of Italy

The numbers of especial interest on the fourth popular concert program of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, Georg Schnevoigt, conductor, are souvenirs of Italy—"In Old Florence" and "In Old Turin." These two musical impressions of Italy, composed by Monsignor Joseph Tonello, and dedicated to Mr. William Andrews Clark, Jr., founder of the Philharmonic Orchestra, are written in the simple styles of the old masters, ever favorites of the composer. Father Tonello was inspired to compose these numbers after two happy trips to Italy with Mr. Clark.

Another number to be given first hearing in America is Haydn-Symphonie Concertants, Op. 84 for violin, cello, oboe, bassoon and orchestra; violin, Alfred E. Megerlin; cello, Ilya Bronson; oboe, Henri DeBusscher; bassoon, Frederick Mortz.

Other numbers programmed are two preludes by Chopin, which will be given first hearing at these concerts; Wagner Overture to "The Flying Dutchman"; Smetana Vltava (River Moldau) symphonic poem from "My Fatherland" and Massenet, scenes Napolitaines.

This concert will be given Sunday afternoon, December 18, at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

STYLE WHIMISIES

Black lingerie is outstanding in the undergarment styles of the season. They are generally fashioned of black gorgette and trimmed with black shadow lace. Some are fashioned entirely of black lace, reinforced with net.

In determining the length of your skirt study your figure before a full length mirror. Two inches below the knee is the accepted standard for the shortest skirts.

SUGGESTIONS

Wash the apples first, cutting out all bad spots, quarts, and core (do not peel), and after frying bacon or salt pork place the apples in the frying pan in the grease, adding salt, pepper and sugar to taste. Cover and steam a while. Then remove cover and keep stirring until a nice brown.

Ferguson-Keegan Wedding Announced

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Margaret Adair Keegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Keegan of Pasadena, and Harry Ferguson of Pasadena comes as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple. The ceremony was performed yesterday in Riverside at the home of friends.

The bride and groom were accompanied by Mrs. Keegan and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Abnet of Pasadena. Following the ceremony they returned to Sierra Madre, where they will make their home with the bride's parents, for the present.

Bazaar Nets Church Large Sum

Although the rain kept many people at home Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening, the bazaar held in the parish house at St. Rita's was a great success, both financially and socially, according to reports from those in charge.

While no definite check has yet been made, it was announced at the close of Saturday night, that more than $1000 had been taken in, and it is expected that about that amount will be cleared. The hall was decorated in Christmas green, and the large crowds loitered from one booth to another, spending money freely, until practically every booth was sold out.

Mrs. Hart Presides over Luncheon

An informal luncheon, at her lovely home, Hartwood, at Lamanada Park, was presided over yesterday by Mrs. Frank Hart, who entertained in honor of Mrs. J. T. Mason, who is visiting Mrs. W. J. Lawless. Other guests were Mrs. William Carson Shaw and Miss Helen Cleveland, of Toronto, Canada, who is visiting Mrs. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries very graciously entertained at a dinner party Friday evening when guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. Frank Hart and son Karl, Mrs. F. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corlett and son Jack, and Mrs. J. T. Mason. The table was centered with a lovely bowl of crysanthemums, arranged with wild sage.

Special arrangements are being made for the Christmas party for the children at the Woman's club house. The party will be given on the afternoon of December 21, and there will be gifts of candy, nuts and pop corn for all of the children. The age limit for the kiddies is 12 years, but there is no limit on the number. The only restriction is that each child must be sponsored by some member of the club.

Aged Pine Cone

The department of paleontology at the University of California has received a pine cone in perfect condition that is probably two million years old, although it is of a species still existing. The tree which bore the cone was buried in a lava flow and thus preserved. A prospector in Placer county found the cone and sent it to the university.

Cleaning Solutions

The speed of chemical reactions is increased by raising the temperature. Therefore, a hot ammonia solution is a better cleanser than a cold one. However, holding the temperature of the solution just below the boiling point would be almost as effective as to keep the solution boiling, except for the possible aid given by the vigorous agitation by boiling.

Development Conserves Much Water

Bringing to successful conclusion one of the most difficult pieces of engineering yet accomplished on its world renowned Big Creek-San Joaquin River hydro-electric project in the high Sierras of Fresno County, the Southern California Edison Company has turned the water thru the Mono-Bear Diversion system making 182,000 additional acre feet of water a year available for use through its entire series of five power plants. This is slightly more than the combined storage of Florence and Huntington Lakes and will help to fill the great new reservoir at Shaver Lake which is coming into operation next spring.

This work has all been under the direction of George C. Ward whose genius in connection with hydro-electric development has received national and academic recognition. For his mastery work in completing the thirteen mile Florence Lake Tunnel between Florence and Huntington Lakes, Mr. Ward was presented with a magnificent bronze medallion by the United States Chamber of Commerce. In addition to this unusual distinction, Mr. Ward received honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering from the University of Southern California.

Mono and Bear Creeks are situated across a mountain ridge from the San Joaquin river, on which river much of the construction work of the Edison Company's hydro-electric project has been carried on. Through the construction of diversion dams on both Mono and Bear Creeks, and the boring of two converging tunnels, it has been possible to bring all of the water from these two streams to the head of a long inverted siphon, stretching across the bed of the south fork of the San Joaquin river, thence to the Florence Lake Tunnel. In planning for this great water reclamation project, the Company took into consideration the fact that it had but seven months each year in which to carry on the work, and all effort was used toward bringing the work to completion prior to December 1st, 1927.

This work was carried on at an altitude of approximately 7000 feet, and from the first of December to the end of May the climate is such as to prevent the carrying on of any outside work. Beginning with the opening up of the trails in the spring of 1926, a construction force, numbering at times in excess of 1500 men, worked at top speed, until forced out of this altitude by the early snow in the fall of 1926. Plunging back into the wilderness just as early as the weather would permit in the spring of 1927, this construction crew again attacked the mighty forces of nature. This time they had but one object in view, and that to complete the task before winter snows again repelled them.

More than 11,000 feet of tunnel was bored, and almost four miles of steel pipe were laid. This pipe varied in diameter from six feet to eight feet. To make possible the carrying of this pipe to its place on the line, it was necessary to construct more than eight miles of road through the most rugged type of mountainous country. Because of the uneven nature of the territory in which this work was being done, very little storage space was available in which to keep the pipe. It was therefore necessary to literally work hand to mouth, and at no time was there more than a two to three days supply of pipe on the ground at the siphon site. This meant that the transportation department, operating a great fleet of heavy duty trucks hauling these great lengths of pipe into the mountains, had to function faultlessly, as any breakdown in that department might have delayed the completion date.

In bringing these two streams into subjection the Edison Company has brought into use an average yearly run off of 182,000 acre feet. The capacity of the Mono-Bear siphon is 600 second feet or 3,000 miners inches, which is fifty per cent greater than the maximum capacity of the Los Angeles aqueduct. In twenty-four hours, the siphon can deliver close to half a billion gallons of water into the Edison Company's great storage reservoirs. Translated into electric energy, this tremendous flow of water means that the Edison Company has 760 million kilowatt hours of electricity available. In significance, this particular task ranks only to the bringing into use of the record breaking Florence Lake tunnel, the thirteen mile bore which was completed in February 1925.

When ironing put the things that mending on a certain section of the rack so as to have them all together for mending without further sorting.

BUYING MINERALS—CALCIUM

Food authorities claim that the American dietary is probably more deficient in calcium than in any other element. Fats, sugars, starches and meats are poor calcium contributors. Cheese, milk, eggs (especially the yolk), fruits and vegetables are the valuable calcium foods.

It is well to remember that a quart of milk gives a child sufficient calcium for his daily need (1 gram). Adults need only a little more than one half of the child's requirements.

Sherman says that usually the calcium supply depends more largely upon milk than upon all other foods combined. It is comparatively cheap as well as adequate. For fifteen cents a child may secure his daily calcium supply and the adult for nine cents. Six cents worth of cottage cheese which can be bought at twenty cents a pound, supplies a day's calcium requirements. For the child, however, it is not as desirable as the milk. In the same way five pounds of carrots at five cents a pound would not be as advisable from the bulk standpoint, although the calcium content would be adequate in quantity but not quality.

Lowest diets which must include a large per cent of cereal products are apt to be inadequate in calcium unless money is spent on milk. Cooked cereal and milk satisfy many nutritional needs, especially if unrefined cereals are used. Dried beans are a cheap source of calcium, also molasses.

The cheapest vegetables rich in calcium are the common "greens" such as dandelions, turnip tops, chard, cabbage and carrots. Cauliflower and celery are also good, but more expensive. Oranges and figs lead all fruit in calcium content. Clam chowder and other fish dishes are good.

Calcium is indispensable for the muscles, nerves, blood, bones and teeth of every family member. Children especially need it for the growing of sound teeth. An adequate calcium diet greatly diminishes the possibility of bowed legs, knock knees, flat feet and defective teeth in childhood and adult life. Other minerals and vitamin D are necessary for the body's utilization of calcium.

Pregnant and nursing mothers need calcium or else their own teeth and bones suffer.

Budget for calcium every day. It means buying for health and straighter bodies.—Christmas Seal Service.

Greta Garbo Has Favorite Recipe For Green Salad

"Show me the books a man likes and I will tell you what kind of a man he is," is an old saw.

But just as true is: "Tell me your favorite dish and I will tell you your nationality." Lithe, fair, little Greta Garbo, screen's most wistful star, runs true to type in this respect. Her favorite dish is a salad her mother taught her to make not so many years ago, in far away Sweden. Greta still makes it herself, in her California bungalow.

"It uses up just about everything you have in your ice box—and besides, it's so good," is her own description of her "Swedish Salad." This is her recipe:

4 ozs. cold roast beef, chopped; 4 ozs. chopped, cold boiled potatoes; 4 ozs. chopped apples; 4 ozs. diced pickled herring; 3 chopped anchovies; 1 tablespoon capers; 1 hard-boiled egg, chopped; 1 tablespoon tarragon; 24 halved olives; 12 oysters, raw; vinegar, oil.

Mix the ingredients, all but the oysters, and place on a salad bowl garnished with lettuce. Dry oysters and arrange on top. Serve cold.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

Commemorating their 55th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hawk threw open the doors of their attractive home on Brookside Lane to their many friends during the entire day. After years of active life in business in various states, and Mr. and Mrs. Hawk expressed themselves as being especially happy and contented with their present location and beautiful surroundings in Sierra Madre Canyon Park and stated that they were satisfied to spend the remaining years of their lives in their cottage under the live oaks and with the flowers and birds of their own dooryard. Among the guests offering congratulations to the happy couple were Mrs. Hawk's sister, Mrs. Vida Cornelius, Mrs. Cornelius Welch, schoolmate of Mrs. Hawk in Indiana, Cornelius Welch of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. John Barr of Rochester, Indiana, all of whom joined in expressions of delight in the lovely spot chosen by the Hawks for the evening of their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Evans had as guests at their cottage, "Just a Mere Home," on Saturday and Sunday, Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Candiafer of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Allen of Southgate.

Mrs. J. T. Sturm of Pomona spent Monday in the Canyon visiting her aunts Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus and Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Griswold spent Saturday night at Chino, from which place they drove on Sunday morning to Camp Baldy where they enjoyed seeing the ground and trees covered with snow and were happy to engage in an old-fashioned game of snowball.

Mrs. Ella A. Cadmus celebrated her birthday on Sunday at her home "Cadmus Villa," 601 Woodland Drive. Supper was served to the guests at 6 o'clock when two beautifully decorated birthday cakes were cut by the hostess. Those wishing Mrs. Cadmus happy returns of the day were Mrs. Jennie Virgin, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Virgin of Pasadena, Mrs. Nettie J. Forrest, Mrs. Rebecca Romaine Hill, William Thomas, Misses Katherine Burton and Laura E. Cadmus.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Anderson spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Carter, former Canyon residents now living at 44 West Carter Avenue.

All members of the Canyon Improvement Association are again urged to be present at the regular monthly meeting of the organization to be held in the Canyon Club House tonight at 7:30. There are a number of matters of importance to be discussed.

I Trouble

Most of us have eye trouble. I want this, I want that, I want the other thing; I don't appreciate this. I don't appreciate that, I don't appreciate anything. Yes, I am my main trouble.—Atchison Globe.

Practice Discretion

Discretion is the perfection of reason and a guide to us in all the duties of life. Cunning is a kind of instinct that only looks out after our immediate interests and welfare.—Bruever.

Designer's Initials

The Department of the Treasury says the mark on the Liberty dollar is not an M, but a combination of the letters A and F, the initials of the designer, Anthony Francisc.
